NOVOMATIC LOTTERY SOLUTIONS Signs 6-Year Contract with PROMOSPORT of Tunisia

NOVOMATIC, Europe's leading gaming technology group, announces that its subsidiary NOVOMATIC LOTTERY SOLUTIONS (NLS) has been awarded a six-year contract by PROMOSPORT, acting on behalf of the Republic of Tunisia's Ministry for Youth and Sport, to provide a turnkey solution for the management of sports betting and ongoing maintenance and support services.

Under the newly signed agreement, which was secured through a competitive bid with three other participants, NLS will provide PROMOSPORT with up to 3,000 online retail terminals as well as a state-of-the-art and fully integrated central system encompassing retail, Internet and mobile capabilities. The modern design of the system allows for the first Omni-channel system implementation in the region as well as for the integration with best-of-breed content providers for any future expansion requested by PROMOSPORT. NLS will cooperate with local providers to deliver a secure and resilient network and provide a high quality support service to retailers.

"We are delighted to now be working with PROMOSPORT", said Frank Cecchini, CEO of NOVOMATIC Lottery Solutions. "We will deliver a solution that comprises the latest technologies with terminals deploying thin client applications, web-based transaction engines and back-office applications. PROMOSPORT will be receiving the latest premium quality system with integrated support for new games and channels."

"All the team here at NOVOMATIC Lottery Solutions are very excited about this new project and eager to embrace the challenge", said Heidar Karlsson, CTO of NOVOMATIC Lottery Solutions. "We are looking forward to a long lasting business partnership with the team at PROMOSPORT. Our industry leading technologies will help to generate increased revenues at lower cost for PROMOSPORT and help to raise more funds for its good causes."
